In the house on Tuesday the resolu-tion introduced by Representative Hall of Willington concerning a recess of the house from April 15 to January next will be the order of the day at 12.30 o'clock. The indications are that the resolution will be rejected and that the session will continue indefinitely until it disposes of the business before it.

"It strikes me that this house wastes a lot of time on little matters, but does not hesitate a minute on an appropriation bill that calls for $100,000 for some purpose or another." This was said to the members after they had quibbled for a long time about paying a claim of $200 to Roy W. Nichols of Hartford, formerly of New London, to reimburse him for disabilities received while in the military service of the state. The resolution was finally massed.

Francis C., of Norwich, Francis Clark Burdick being the only great-grand-child and representing the fourth generation present; Mrs. Larkham's daughter and son, Gertrude E. Kilborn and Fred E.
